DR. JOHN A. HELD TELLS OF TRIP THRU COUNTRIES OF OLD WORLD

Dr. John A. Held, pastor of the First Baptist church, returned Tuesday from a three months trip to Europe, Africa and Asia. The chief object of his visit was to attend the meetings of the Baptist World Alliance which was held in Stockholm, Sweden, in June. There were 75 Texans among the delegates to the convention, said Dr. Held, best known of whom was Dr. George W. Truitt, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas. Other prominent Texans were: Dr. C. V. Edwards of the College Avenue Baptist church, Fort Worth; Dr. Forest Smith, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, Fort Worth; Dr. J. B. Levell, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Houston, and Dr. T. L. Holcomb of the First Baptist church of Sherman.

A. and M. Man Honored.
Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., who was elected chairman of the alliance, is a Texas A. and M. College graduate. Dr. Held said. Dr. Mullins was described by Dr. Held as a liberal in the sense of being broad-minded and progressive but not a liberalist in the sense of being a "higher critic."
Dr. Held's trip took him first to Norway where he spent five or six days and then to Stockholm for the duration of the World Alliance, about one week. From Sweden he traveled next to Germany. There he saw the Kiel Canal, Hamburg, and Berlin, spending four days in the last named city. He went through the Emperor's Palace which, except for the royal suite, is now used for a museum. While in Berlin he met a man whom he later learned had been a major in the German army and had been cited for bravery by five or six nations. This man, who only gave his history piece meal for much questioning, volunteered to serve as a guide for them in Berlin. By his aid Dr. Held's party was able to see much they otherwise would have missed. Dr. Held made it a point to inquire into the private life of the peoples he visited. Through-out Germany, he asserted, there is an air of sadness that can be detected almost as soon as one crosses the border. Of the visitors who go to Germany 90 per cent undergo a change of view regarding the people of that country, averred Dr. Held.

Saw Communist Demonstration.
Leaving Berlin, Dr. Held next went to Dresden. He was there on Aug. 1st when there was a Communist demonstration on the streets. Dresden is a beautiful city of 700,000, he said. Flowing through it is the Elbe, famous for the battles of Napoleon. There, also is the famous Sistine Madonna painted by Raphael. This work of art is an inspiring sight which one might easily spend a half day scrutinizing and still go away without fully appreciating it, in the opinion of Dr. Held. Next he traveled to Vienna where he spent four days. He visited there

ARTIST AT BURIAL ILLUSTRATES LIFE BY CHALK DRAWING

(From Waco News-Tribune)
Mrs. George C. Miller, formerly of Waco, figured prominently at San Antonio, her present home, a few days ago in one of the most remarkable funeral services ever held in Texas or elsewhere.

The funeral was that of John A. Melver, who was the first student to register at Texas A. and M. College, in 1871. At the services at the grave, as "The Little Brown Church in the Wildwood" was softly played, Mrs. Miller, who is a chalk artist of note, rapidly sketched on a black-board a little church in the backwoods, and while she was doing this Rev. J. A. Melver Jr. was telling of his father's life on a farm near a little church in Lee county, Texas, where he was born.

Mrs. Miller then drew a picture of Mr. Melver Sr. "sailing the sea of life," this being an ocean scene and a man on a small bark sailing over waves. She next drew a picture of the grave with the marker, and with a few strokes the marker was changed into a gate way, outlining figures above the gate as she did this, explaining that the gate was but the gateway to the celestial city of eternal life, above earthly things.

Mrs. Miller spent August in the Frio and Davis mountains, giving "Chalk Talks" at the Alto Frio and Paisano encampments. She states that since the first Sunday in March there have been 118 conversions directly from these talks.

The letter was first addressed to him at Mollendo, Peru, but somehow missed him there and has been following him ever since until it was returned to the sender. W. B. LANHAM RETURNS FROM STUDY OF CALIF. CO-OPERATIVE ASSN'S.

(From Friday's Daily).
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lanham of College returned Wednesday afternoon from a trip to Oregon and California. Mr. Lanham went chiefly to study co-operative associations in California with a view to giving better aid to co-operative associations of farmers in Texas. While the associations of the northwest are better established than Texas associations, he feels that those here are founded on sounder principles, he said. The people of the West and Northwest, he explained, are well satisfied with the results they have achieved through co-operation, but no longer expect co-operation to accomplish miracles. On the whole, he said, he feels much encouraged after this opportunity to compare Texas co-operatives with Western co-operatives. While in California he also studied the citrus industry with a view to being able to help the citrus growers of the Rio Grande Valley. Texas soil and climate are just as good and land prices much lower than in California. When asked his opinion of California climate, Mr. Lanham laughed and said, "It is well advertised." The surf was too cold for bathing, even in August, and the weather was little cooler than in Texas, he asserted.

WHAT THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS ARE

Although almost everyone knows that Rhodes scholarships exist, and are used regularly by leading students enough time has elapsed since they were founded, for the younger generation not to know how they operate or how they came about. The late Cecil John Rhodes, founder of Great Britain's South African empire, left at his death a fund providing for a course at Oxford University for American and other young men, in the belief that this would lead to a closer understanding between Americans and Englishmen. Two scholarships are open to each state in the Union and the holder of each is entitled to an income of 300 pounds sterling per year for three years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for their kindness to us during our time and trouble and bereavement.

BRITISH GIVE NEGATIVE ANSWER CONCERNING LIQUOR AGREEMENTS

English Government in Reply Declines to Make Reciprocal Pact Concerning Shipments of Liquors or Regulation of Smuggling—American Officials Yet Hopeful.

(By Associated Press).
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—The British reply to Secretary Hughes' proposal for a reciprocal agreement on ship liquor and liquor smuggling was received at State Department today. It was described by officials as "in general not sympathetic to the proposal". The British government plans however to present the question to the British Imperial conference in London sometime in the next few months. State Department officials view the communication as leaving open the possibility of negotiation of a double-barreled treaty to curb rum running, also to facilitate liquor shipments in foreign bottoms. There was no attempt, however, to disguise the fact that the British government had indicated a general disapproval of the plan and raised objection against it.

M. AND MRS. BRAYTON SEE DAVIS MOUNTAINS AND POINTS ON WEST

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Brayton have returned from an overland trip to the Davis mountains. Going first to San Antonio, they made their way on to Olympia Canyon and through Valentine to Sierra Blanco and El Paso and return. They were gone in all eight weeks, most of which time was spent in the Davis mountains. While there they saw the proposed site for the state park which they thought very beautiful. A highway is being built through the Olympian canyon which will make the Davis mountains and the proposed state park much more accessible. The Davis mountains are a great fruit country, they said, there being some immense orchards there, and peaches, white grapefruits and melons growing in abundance. While at the mountains they saw Prof. A. T. Potts and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Daugherty of College.

In her class work, she has twice been distinguished, and has a splendid athletic record. She has been on the varsity squad of the college in basketball and volleyball for three successive years. While Miss Conway's many friends regret to have her leave them, they commend her very heartily for her successful efforts, and wish for her much pleasure and happiness in the coming year.

(From Friday's Daily)
Bryan friends will regret to learn of the deep grief which has recently come to Mrs. Ralph Spann, of El Paso, who was formerly Miss Ruth Cauthen, and often visited her uncle, George McMichael in this city. Mrs. Spann spent the summer with her father, Jeff Cauthen, at Lampasas, and was making preparations to join her husband, Mr. Ralph Spann in Chicago this week. Mr. Spann, who was a promising young attorney, had gone to Chicago to enter a law firm in that city, and Mrs. Spann and their little three year old son were soon to be with him there. Tuesday, Mrs. Spann received a telegram from Chicago, that her husband had been accidentally shot, and had died from the wounds. The body was brought from Chicago to Lampasas for burial and the funeral took place there Thursday afternoon.

KURTEN COMMUNITY CLUB ELECT OFFICERS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle)
KURTEN, Tex., Sept. 14.—"Every member of this club is as responsible for its success as is the president," said James Lange, when elected for the second time to lead the destinies of the community club, at their meeting Thursday night. By co-operation, concentration and determination we can accomplish what we undertake if we all work together. This was proven by our victory on "Brazen County Day" at the Extension Service Farmers' Short Course at A. and M. College. I hope for us greater achievements this coming year," said Mr. Lange. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Tal Tobias, vice president; Miss Mae Conrad, secretary. Mrs. Will Henderson was named chairman of the program committee by the president, she to choose the other two members of her committee. This being the busy season the attendance was not so large as usual, but a representative crowd was present. County Agent Beason led the singing, and gave some helpful hints as well as did Miss Laura Belle Roten, county home demonstration agent, in planning the work for the coming year. Other members on the program were: Reading by Miss Lillie Lawless; talk by Mrs. Lee J. Rountree of Bryan, and a trio by Misses Pansy Odom, Florine Lange and Eva Henderson.

The meeting was called to order by the scout master, Horace Smith, who made a good talk on the attendance of the troop. It was decided to make the boys attend more regularly and be on time to assess a fine of 10 cents for absent and 5 cents for being tardy. Later troop 1 visited troop 2 and an enthusiastic discussion followed in regard to the football team and resulted in the election of David Bunting as captain. The meeting was dismissed after repeating the scout oath.

WE GET WHAT WE PAY FOR

A teacher of this county who has two college degrees figures that he is getting $8.75 for each day's work, while brick masons in Houston are getting $14 per day and plasterers, who have been getting $12 per day, have struck for $13. In view of this comparison, can anyone point out the incentive a young might have for spending four to six years in college in preparation for higher things in life? It is not the purpose of this editorial to decry the high wages paid to artisans, let the law of supply and demand take care of that—but it is our purpose to say a word for the most important of all businesses—the business of educating the young—which though vitally important, is not in a position to secure just dues for its workers by ordinary means.

Let us not deceive ourselves into believing that we are getting our children educated cheaply, for we are not. We get just exactly what we pay for here, as elsewhere. If we place little value on education and pay poor salaries to those engaged in that occupation, we will get poor service from the class of teachers our offers attract. This poor service, by wasting the time of pupils in more or less useless endeavor when they might be twice as profitably employed, will react on us as families and on us as communities. Our sons and daughters will come out of school half educated or improperly educated, with no vision of life and little training, and our business men who have put up with their inferior services—for they can obtain no other—will pay the price there that they should have paid when these children were being educated. We cannot escape these facts. Let us give school work its proper value and pay teachers accordingly.

TABOR COMMUNITY ENTERTAINED BY ROTARIANS AND GIVEN PRIZES

Busy gins running at night, cotton wagons moving along the dusty roads by the light of the moon, and tired farm people accounted for the unusually small crowd at the Tabor community meeting Friday night. The crowd present might have been a disappointment to the Bryan Rotarians who had voted to go to Tabor and put on a "pep" meeting, but what might have happened in way of disappointment to the Rotarians did happen to the Tabor people present because of the failure of the Rotarians to show up. Out of the 18 who promised Wednesday to go, S. E. Eberstadt, David Reid, S. Moylan Bird, O. W. Goolsby, and C. L. Beason were the only ones to show up, Moylan Bird and David Reid appearing at a late hour after having explored and wandering about in the Wheelock neighborhood in an endeavor to find ever so noted a place as Tabor. Eberstadt inquired of David Reid as to the particular brand they had used, whereupon David declared it to be only the juice left in the jars of the famous pickles he sells.

Those Making Talks.
However, the meeting was a good one. O. W. Goolsby led off with first talk in which he complimented the Tabor people for the spirit of progress they have manifested, and he assured them that what they had done had been an incentive to others in community building and the making of a better agriculture. Thomas A. Popham, student, A. and M. College, and formerly superintendent Odd Fellows Home, Corsicana, delighted those present with a splendid talk and entertaining readings. Rev. S. Moylan Bird and David Reid arriving on the scene at a late hour, were asked to make an explanation of their tardiness, and Moylan did so in his usual laconic manner, adding in a few brief, but well chosen words his delight at again being at

Tabor, but expressing regret that his fellow Rotarians for one cause or another deserted him in that hour when he had hoped to give a program characteristic of the life and enthusiasm of the Bryan Rotary Club. He pointed to the presence of electric lights, talking machine and all of which had been added to the community's equipment since his first visit to Tabor, and these things, he said, expressed progressive spirit of the community. In closing his splendid talk he pledged his support as an individual citizen, as a Rotarian, and as a clergyman to whatever might be conducive to the upbuilding of the community.

Poultry Association.
County Agent Beason called attention to work of the Brazos County Poultry Association, saying they planned to pull off the biggest show in Bryan that has ever been seen in this part of the country. Secretary S. E. Eberstadt responding to an invitation, by Walter Armstrong, president of the Welfare Club, to address the meeting, said that he desired to present to the community $22.50 in gold, prize money won at "Brazos County Day" during the Short Course, $15 of which was for second prize for attendance, $5 for best community talk, and $2.50 for the second best yell, contributed by the business men of Bryan, and which would have been paid sooner, but he had been waiting to present it at a community meeting. President Armstrong accepted, on part of the community, the prize money, adding that it had not been won without effort, and that he desired to thank all who helped in the victory and also desired to thank the business men of Bryan who had so generously contributed the prize money. Additional committees were appointed for the carrying out of plans for the fair to be held on September 28.

Rev. L. G. Ament, who preached two sermons in the Christian church Sunday, left this morning for his home in Sabinal.

DOORS OF A. AND M. COLLEGE OPEN PROMPTLY ON TIME THIS MORNING

Five Hundred New Men, Stretching in Double Column From Main Entrance to Flag Pole, Stand in Line When Registrar Friley Prosaically Begins His Inquiry into Qualifications.

(Special to Bryan Eagle).
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 17.—On the stroke of 8 o'clock this morning the doors of the A. and M. College of Texas were literally "thrown open" to a host of young men who knocked there for admittance and asked for an opportunity to pursue the straits of higher learning. As the doors parted Registrar Charles E. Friley stood in the opening and in frank but prosaic manner began the routine of acceptance, rigidly requiring the show of credentials and seriously and without show of sentimental interest in the rosy dreams of incipient scholars quizzing them about such cool, deliberate and material things as qualifications. The first count revealed the presence of about 500 new men in the long line that reached in double column from the front entrance to the main building to the flagpole. Registration of freshmen will continue today and tomorrow and old men will be accepted Wednesday and Thursday. Classwork will begin Friday morning. The college year will be officially opened with the usual exercise in Guion Hall Friday morning. Prominent speakers will be present to take part in the program. Indications from data in the hands of the registrar indicate a record enrollment for the first term. Over 700 freshmen applied for admission by mail before starting for College Station.

MRS. J. W. HOWELL HONORS MISS LAGOW OF BAYLOR COLLEGE

Miss Lucy Lagow is spending the week-end in Bryan in the interest of the Baylor College Endowment Fund, and is at the home of Mrs. J. B. Sanders. Miss Lagow was the honor guest at a beautiful informal tea on Thursday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. B. Sanders, when the members of Mrs. Howell's Sunday School class and a few other friends were invited to meet her. Miss Lagow is a young woman of culture and charming personality, who is devoting her life to Christian service. She is preparing herself to go as a missionary to foreign fields and is striving for higher education to better fit herself for her great life work. Having graduated at Baylor College, Belton, in June 1923, Miss Lagow will take a course in the Baptist Training School at Seminary Hill, Fort Worth, during the coming year, and Mrs. J. Webb Howell's class is giving to Miss Lagow, through the school, the $300 scholarship necessary to complete her school work. One object of Miss Lagow's visit to Bryan at this time was to thank this class of women for their generous gift, which she did, in a most impressive and inspirational talk at the home of the class teacher, Mrs. Howell on Thursday afternoon.

Tests with Pepsinated Calomel, the new English Calomel treatment, have shown that it is one of the most powerful stimulants to the kidneys which we possess. While not intended primarily for the treatment of kidney diseases, yet it exerts a powerful influence upon these organs and promptly relieves backache due to the kidneys, by stimulating both the liver and kidneys, thus aiding them in removing the waste matter that is causing trouble. If your back aches most of the time, or if you are troubled with constipation or biliousness, try Pepsinated Calomel on the positive guarantee that you will be relieved or your money returned. M. H. James Dr. Co., and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, editor of the Bryan Eagle, said in an address before the Kurten community club at a called meeting on Thursday night, September 13, that the Kurten people had given to Brazos county and the State of Texas a fine example of the tangible results of community team work, or co-operation and that she hoped the victory, heralded throughout the country, would be as a stepping stone to greater achievements in the future, reminding Kurten people that the honors won had brought corresponding responsibilities which the community must share, but which it could not shift. She pointed to the fact that our greatest asset is in our boys and girls—the men and women of a great tomorrow—whose lives in the future should reflect our own unselfish service of today rendered in an endeavor to make mankind better.

Readjustment Necessary.

In a recent address before the Teachers' Institute at College Station, State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs said that present-day education should prepare boys and girls for social efficiency. He brought severe indictment against our schools when he declared that business throughout the state complain of the inefficiency of high school students of today. Some one has said that the "duty of the school is to adjust its relationship to industries." Our chief industry being agriculture, our course, then, is obvious.

New Poultry Teacher.

"Donald F. Irving has recently joined the staff of the Department of Poultry Husbandry at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Mr. Irving is a graduate of Rutgers College, New Jersey state university, where he majored in poultry husbandry work. Mr. and Mrs. Irving are now pleasantly located in the state and they are greatly pleased to note the fine development of the poultry work of the great Lone Star State."—Lone Star Poultry Journal.

Exhibit Your Products.

The several community fairs to be held in the near future, beginning with Millican on Wednesday of this week, speaks well for the improvement of agriculture in Brazos county. The interest in these community fairs should not be merely passive. Those who have farm products or livestock should take the time and trouble to exhibit them that comparisons may be made and clearer conceptions formed of the better types, varieties, etc. The farmer who made a failure of corn this year because he used the wrong variety for this section would serve well his fellow farmer by exhibiting this corn that others seeing the cause of his failure might not go and do likewise next year or in the years to come. If the most dependable varieties of corn had been used by all this year the production could have been increased at least 5 bushels per acre, or a total of more than a hundred thousand bushels added to our crop to say nothing of still greater production through better cultural methods and proper fertilization. Then the business man should take time to attend these fairs and thus lend his encouragement to a better agriculture.

Crop Forecasts.

H. H. Schutz, statistician, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Houston, Texas, advises County Agent C. L. Beason that crop forecasts on September 1, are as follows: "Corn, (Texas)—based upon the condition figure a production of 85,712,000 bushels is forecast, which is 28,868,000 bushels below last year's total. The U. S. production is forecast at 3,075,786,000 bushels; 1922 total was 2,891,000,000 bushels. Grain sorghums, Texas—Last year's production was 29,400,000 bushels, and the forecast based upon 66 per cent condition indicates 42,434,000 bushels for this year. Oats, Texas—The final forecast based upon 76 per cent at time of harvest, indicates an average yield of 33 bushels and a production of 51,381,000 bushels, or 18,000,000 bushels more than last year."

Rotarians and Farmers.

Fred Kamflor states, in the September Rotarian, that when Bud Ross was elected president of the Rotary Club last year at Dubuque, Iowa, one of the first things he did was to appoint an "agricultural committee" with the result that the spirit of Rotary was sold, through community meetings, to the farmer and all members of the farm home in that county, the seed of acquaintanceship reaping in an abundant harvest of indissoluble friendship between the farmer and the business man. The good work of the Dubuque Rotarians is only another vindication of the truthfulness of the age-old exhortation, "Get acquainted with your neighbor—you might like him." Next to the old-time home visits our fathers and mothers used to make each other, comes the community meeting as a place where friendships may be cultivated, problems of common interest solved, and proper relations of man to man formed.

The Farmers Predicament.

Llewellyn Trapp in answering why farmers are not building new barns and houses states, in "Better Crops," that "A man who runs a farm in Virginia sent to the New York Herald the other day a letter in which he translated the cost of construction at present wages into food at the prices the farmer gets. The example he gives is most illuminating: 'It takes 63 1-2 dozens, or 762, eggs to pay a plasterer for one day of eight hours work. It takes 17 1-2 bushels of corn, or a year's receipts

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL GROWING IN POWER

Evangelist Daugherty is continuing his meeting at the Carnegie Library each evening at 7:45. The interest is increasing and the meetings will continue till next Sunday night. The subject for tonight is, "The Time When and the Place Where the Church of Christ Began," for Thursday night, "What Must I Do To Be Saved." Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services. The gospel is being preached earnestly and in love. If you are a Christian, it will encourage you; if you are not, you will hear some very logical reasoning concerning man's relationship to God. Certainly good will be accomplished if we follow the injunction, "Come, let us reason together." Remember, 7:45 at the Carnegie Library.

PROF. FERMIER TELLS HAPPENINGS ON TRIP TAKEN THIS SUMMER

(From Saturday's Daily). Prof. E. J. Fermier, head of the department of mechanical engineering and director of the Engineering Experiment Station, in company with Mrs. Fermier and their four children, recently returned from a trip through the North-Central States. They left July 3 and returned August 24. Leaving Texas in their car, they went north through Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Illinois, to Indiana, where they visited friends and relatives of Prof. Fermier's. Continuing north to Michigan, they visited friends and relatives of Mrs. Fermier's. The object of the trip was merely to have an enjoyable time, but they did not neglect to see points of interest as they went along. Prof. Fermier said. One of the most interesting things they observed, he remarked, was the disappearance of "the little red school house." Some of them had been made into residences, some into barns, some into implement sheds, and some even into hog pens. They have all been replaced by consolidated rural schools, he continued, and the children are carried to and from the schools by men who take the contracts and furnish the conveyance.

In Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois the roads were very good, in Kansas moderately good, but in Oklahoma and Missouri bad, he said, but added that the cause for bad roads in Missouri was that the roads were torn up gangs of men working on them and that in Oklahoma, while the roads could not be called "improved" they were kept in good repair. They were dragged as quickly as possible after every rain. In going up and coming back, explained Prof. Fermier, they took different routes so as to see as much new country as possible. In touring Oklahoma, Prof. Fermier said, they passed through the martial law territory which has been declared as a result of the fight between Governor Walton and the Ku Klux Klan and except for the accounts they read in the newspapers they would not have known that the territory was under military control.

There was an interesting difference between traffic laws in the several states and cities passed through remarked Prof. Fermier. In some cities traffic regulations were inadequate for the situation but this criticism could not be made against Indianapolis. Their party struck there the same day that Presiding and the Rainbow Division were there and the streets were heavily crowded, yet because of the well planned regulations and the good work of the police, his car was able to proceed on through the city with very slight delay, said Prof. Fermier.

Prof. Fermier and his family found a wonderful development in tourist camps along their route. Accommodations varied but in many there was not only a free camping site but free water, open-air stoves, screened kitchens, free sanitary toilets, shower bath, guards, and night-watchmen, and in some places free gas for cooking though usually there was a small charge for gas. The persons they met on the road usually were very courteous, Prof. Fermier said. Any passing party would give aid to an autoist in trouble, provided it was daytime but absolutely would not stop at all at night. The party, on their trip, displayed an A. and M. pennant and this resulted in their making many pleasant acquaintances. On their way back they met Coach Stewart, newly elected at Texas University.

PROSPECTIVE DENGUE EPIDEMIC MAY EASILY BE AVERTED IN BRYAN

(By W. S. Bizzell, Health Officer). Dengue is again rearing its ugly head in Texas. From various parts of the state the State board of health is receiving reports of the presence of the disease which indicate a possible epidemic unless prompt preventive measures are applied. Where anti-mosquito campaigns are being conducted as in Bryan, co-operation on the part of the citizens with the city officials will suffice to keep out the disease.

The disease carrying mosquito is domestic in its habits. It breeds only in artificial water containers that are seen in and around dwellings, public buildings, or stables, and rarely travels more than a hundred yards from its breeding places. It is the small black mosquito with white rings on its legs that bites in the daytime. If these mosquitoes are present a careful search of the premises should be made for collections of water that may be producing them. When found the water should be done away with, covered tightly, or oiled. If the source cannot be found report the matter to the city secretary.

The mosquito which has bitten a dengue patient will pass the infection along. Therefore, precautions should be taken to prevent access of mosquitoes to a dengue victim. This can be easily accomplished by covering the bed with a mosquito bar.

JUDGE W. C. DAVIS PLEASES PEOPLE OF HEARNE BY SERMON

Fully sustaining his reputation as one of the premier orators of the State, the address of Judge W. C. Davis, now District Judge and soon to be Chief Justice of the Tenth district court of civil appeals, was heard by an audience that comfortably filled the First Baptist church on Sunday morning. While taking no specific text, his address was replete with scriptural quotations aptly applied, and was pronounced a masterpiece by all who had the good fortune to hear it.

His theme was the beauty and value of the unselfish life, the life of service to God and the man with whatever talents God has blessed us, as against the self-centered or indifferent life. He used the parable of the good samaritan, the parable of the talents, and many other appropriate scriptural references, as well as those from secular history and literature.

Judge Davis has been for many years a favorite in Hearne and the announcement that he is to speak here never fails to draw a crowd.—Hearne Democrat.

EDGE BLUE RIBBON FORTY CLUB TO MAKE TRIP TO DALLAS FAIR

Last year Prof. P. S. Mangum told the Blue Ribbon Forty Club that he would guarantee them a trip to the Dallas Fair if they would win the State Championship in Club work. The club made good as their part in competition with over fourteen hundred other clubs. Now, Prof. Mangum plans the making good of his part of the contract. At the last Edge community meeting, final arrangements were gone into. The Edge community will furnish the automobiles for carrying the Forty members of the club. The Fair will receive them free while there. The only additional expense will be met by the friends of the club.

This trip by the club to the State Fair will set a precedent for all other clubs winning the State championship for two years now. The county should appreciate this honor and take even a greater interest in this work. The Houston Chamber of Commerce is spending five thousand dollars in club work this year. Could not Brazos county set them an example by taking a more active part in the work and let the county get the most out of being the leading club county within the State.

Severe Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter. . . consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain. "In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer." Have you tried Thedford's Black-Draught? If not, do so today. Over 8 million packages sold, a year. At dealers'.

Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

PROMINENT TYLER BUSINESS MAN ENJOYING A VACATION IN BRYAN

John L. Booty, prominent business man of Tyler is in Bryan for a few weeks visit to Prof. W. L. Harrington. Mr. Booty was formerly from Williamson county and is an old-time friend of the editor and on Thursday was an appreciated visitor at the Eagle office. In response to the question: "How are you spending your days now?" "My life is devoted to helping those who stammer," said Mr. Booty.

His Own Story Given.
"I was one of those, of whom there are so many in the world, who went through an all-unhappy childhood and youth, because I stammered, nobody bothered about it— even as I approached manhood, where ambition if the boy has anything in him begins to assert its sway, nobody bothered, and only I knew that the ways of ambition were barred. Of those who in the attachments of nature should have been sympathetic there was a strange sort of apathy, and I crossed manhood's threshold like a hobbled horse in a race with no chance to win. I felt like I was the doomed victim of a life-crucifixion and silently through the years bore the same old daily cross. But the dream never left me that the thing could be cured. At the age of fifty I did not know one thing about stammering, either as to its cause or cure; and then by happy accident I came to know that contraction of the muscles of the muscles of the vocal organs when talking or trying to talk was the cause. Knowing the cause I believed a solution of the problem—the ultimate complete cure of stammering, could be found. With this as a starting point like some serious thinker in a laboratory, I worked seven years, having no thought but to get rid of my own impediment. The idea of going into it as a life-work never occurred to me, but as my research went on, the thing opened up to me so clearly the cause and some clear insight as to how stammering might be cured, together with almost magical improvement in my own case, induced me to try curing others. The first case that came to me, three years ago, was cured in three weeks, and is cured today. The results on the whole have surpassed all my hopes and expectations. While I think every case is curable, the public should not get the idea that every case is cured. The trouble is to get them to stay long enough. Stammering is not cured like disease is cured, as by taking a pill and be rid of it. It is not that at all; but the stammerer cures himself—all the instructor can do is to show him how. But the stammerer gets the intellectual idea, sees that he must cure himself, imagines he can do it at home, leaves too soon, and as a rule fails. But those who have persistence and courage and will stay with the instructor who understands the problems are certain to be cured. It is happy for the many thousand stammerers in the world that this race is waking up to the fact that this is a serious and neglected problem, and happier still that serious minds in deep research are working toward its solution, which already I believe has arrived."

COURT CONVENES THEN ADJOURNS AS MARK OF RESPECT MRS. BARRON

(From Monday's Daily).

The September term of the district court convened this morning the grand jury empaneled and Mr. E. U. Peters named foreman. In charging the grand jury Judge W. C. Davis, among other things, charged as follows: "I have no special charge to give you this morning. All of you have served on previous grand juries and now in a way that constitutes the violation of the penal laws of this State. However, the law makes it mandatory upon the court that you be charged in regard to certain matters. Before doing so, I desire to call your attention to the oath you have just taken which embraces the full scope of your duties, the oath being as follows: 'You, and each of you, solemnly swear that you will diligently inquire into, and true presentment make, of all such matters and things as shall be given you in charge; the State's counsel, your fellows' and your own, you shall keep secret, unless required to disclose the same in the course of a judicial proceeding in which the truth or falsity of evidence given in the grand jury room in a criminal case, shall be under investigation."

Impartiality Urged.
"You shall present no person from envy, hatred or malice; neither shall you leave any person unprotected for love, fear, favor, affection or hope of reward, but you shall present things truly as they come to your knowledge, according to the best of your understanding, so help you God." You are instructed to investigate all infractions and violations of the law with reference to rearing by railroads; that is, discrimination of freight rates so as to favor the large shippers. You will investigate and see whether or not there have been any violations of the pure food law, the purpose of this law being to protect the public from adulteration in the sale of the commodities of life.

"The law makes it mandatory that we charge you with reference to the violation of the election law. The court is required under the statutes, to charge you to make diligent inquiry as to the violation of the liquor laws of the state. I wish to call your attention to this law. The whiskey traffic has been outlawed by the National and State governments. It is not a question of whether a man is a prohibitionist or anti-prohibitionist, the problem that confronts us now is the respect for and obedience to this law. At this particular time some two thousand or more boys are sent to this county for the purpose of being trained and educated for the duties and responsibilities of life. It is incumbent upon you and on the citizenship of this county to remove the temptation and pitfalls by which these young men may have the purpose for which they were sent here thwarted. A solemn duty rests upon us in this respect and we should, and I am sure will, meet the obligation like men, so that the fathers and mothers of Texas and elsewhere need have no fear of committing their sons to the splendid institutions of learning located here."

Members Grand Jury.
The following compose the grand jury for this term: J. W. Hall, W. O. Holmes, Claude C. Morgan, Fred L. Vacitt, J. W. Burrows, Roy Robinson, Jim Tobias, E. P. Peters, Albert Payne, C. E. Locke, Will Henderson and T. A. Adams.

The civil docket was called and settings made of cases in which service is complete. Upon the completion of the call of the docket Judge Davis stated that the court would adjourn for the day out of respect for the memory of Mrs. John Barron, the mother of W. S. Barron and Mrs. W. E. Neely. W. S. Barron and W. E. Neely being honored members of the bar of this county.

AGGIE TRAINING THIS YEAR PROMISES EARLY EFFICIENCY IN GAME

(By Jinx Tucker. News-Tribune Sports Editor)

The Texas Aggies, usually the last team in the conference to round into form, promises to be one of the first this year. With the important game with Sewanee right around the corner, Bible is driving his veterans at a speedy clip and will probably have them scrimmaging as early as Wednesday of this week. The Aggies will have three practice games to their credit or discredit before meeting the Sewanee Tigers. Saturday of this week they meet Huntsville normal, the following week on Friday they meet Howard Payne, and then on Friday, October 5, comes the game with Southwestern.

If the Sewanee team is coming to Texas expecting an easy victory, the Tennesseans are due for a real shock, but the purple-clad warriors have not done so well on their previous visits to Texas, and they will arrive in Dallas expecting a real tussle and will probably be ready for Bible's crew.

The news that Miller, captain of the 1923 Aggies, will not be able to get in the game this year, will be received with regret by sportsmen throughout Texas, who have been thrilled as they watched his spirals soar for better than a 40-yard average in the various games. And Miller will be missed by the Aggies. In practice Bible always had several men who could equal the punts of Miller in both height and distance, but Miller is one of a few gridiron gladiators who could kick better under fire than in practice. Miller's punts always traveled a greater distance in real games than in practice. Due to that fact he will be hard to replace.

Last year Bible had a star, who with constant practice, might have proven as great a punter as Miller. This star was Crass, who played brilliant football for the Farmers in the early season practice tilts, but evidently Crass could not stand the gaff. Evidently he rode the bench too often to suit him, and preferring to be a big frog in a little puddle than the proverbial little frog in the big puddle, he entered Austin college, and will not be eligible for competition this year. Had Crass stayed at Aggieland, the injury to Miller might have made him a big frog in the big puddle, because he certainly had the football ability.

Bible's system of football play demands a highly proficient punter. He has always had a punter of note. This year King Gill may do the punting for the Farmers. Gill can punt fairly well under fire. In practice, however, Fay Wilson, star of the Fish, team of last year, is a better punter than Gill. If he can get his kicks away in the game as he does in practice, then it is quite likely that he will do the punting for Bible's crew, despite his inexperience. The injury to Miller has certainly given little Puny a glorious opportunity to shine as a conference star in his first year out for the club.

For the first time in the history of the conference, we may witness in action this year a Japanese football player. Among the promising aspirants for a backfield berth with the Aggies is Taro Kishi. And he may make it. There is hardly a doubt but that he will letter in football before he leaves A. and M. Last year he was a star with Anderson's Fish team. An artful dodger and exceptionally fast, he proved a splendid broken field runner on that team. He will get in some of the early-season conference games.

The following letter from Coach D. S. Moore of the Lampasas high school team was received Saturday. It is self-explanatory: "I notice in today's issue of The Waco News-Tribune that I had my club already picked for the season. I agree with you, I am a wonder if I could pick a club this early in the season. But the truth of the matter: I only reached Lampasas this Friday afternoon at 5:30, and I don't know whether there are five or fifty men out for the club. However, I have picked my club for the southwestern championship—'Them Aggies'."

It's going to be difficult to distinguish the different Wilsons in the Aggie team this year. Three players by that name bid fair to make the first-string club. Puny Wilson, captain of the Aggies last year, and an all-Southwestern man is a fixture at one end. R. O. Wilson, who lettered last year, will probably win a tackle berth and young Fay Wilson, brother of Puny, promises to succeed Miller in the back field. B. O. Wilson is no relation to the Wilsons from Honey Grove, but nevertheless considerable of a man, and wears his namely gracefully.

"CALL OF GOD TO MAN" SUBJECT OF REV. THOMPSON'S DISCUSSION

Rev. C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Free Baptist church, took for the subject of his sermon Sunday night "The Call of God to Man," using as his text Gen. 3:9—"and the Lord, God, called unto Adam and said, 'Where art thou?'" He said: "I want to take the text somewhat apart from the context and look into the text itself. The Lord God called unto Adam and said unto him 'Where art thou?' Here we have the speaker, the person to whom spoken, and the call itself.

God the Speaker.
"I will not take your time to argue the existence of God. At heart all of us believe in his existence. The person to whom spoken: 'Adam, the first Adam, the representative of the human race, the one we so often imitate in our disobedience of God's command. There are two things I want to say about the call just here; it is individual, it is universal. God's call is individual and I am praying for the Spirit of God to help you feel that the call is to you. God calls to each of us here tonight. The call is also universal, it is to all mankind.

"I wish to speak here of three ways that God calls men. He calls by the conscience. The conscience is certainly God's chief way of calling men.

"He calls by providence, that is, He takes advantage of some calamity that causes us to stop and think of our great danger.

"And then He calls by His word. Do we believe His word? I feel sure we do. I do not see how we could

Nature of the Call.
"We shall now consider the nature of the call. 'Where art thou,' not where are they, or where is the woman, where art thou. It is a call to attention. The art of the enemy is to keep us from giving attention therefore the excessive pleasure, the lure of the world, etc. Attention or consideration is the first step toward Christianity. Consider your condition tonight. Think where you are. In answering this question some here tonight may have to say, 'I am wandering (I am wasting my good life in riotous living.' Another might say, 'I am resting; I have plenty of time, so I will go on and enjoy myself for a season.' Another might answer, 'I am a sinner; I am living the life of open sin against God and before men. But I am going to forsake my sins and accept Christ some time soon.' When now is far better because it is God's time. And some can say, and thank God for it, and I wish that each of us could answer like this: 'My life is hid with Christ in God, I am enjoying His presence now and it certainly gives me joy unspeakable and full of glory. I am in the fight against sin, I am serving my blessed Lord out of a heart of love and hope some day to see Him face to face.'"
